«I play football» y «I'm playing football» se traducen casi igual: «juego al fútbol» y «estoy jugando al fútbol». ¿Cuándo usarías cada una?

Explicación

Two presents

English has two present tenses. The present simple is for things we do often or things that are always true: «I walk to school every day», «Water boils at 100 °C». The present continuous is for things that are happening now: «Look! It's raining».

En castellano: el presente simple sirve para rutinas y verdades; el presente continuo, para lo que está pasando en este momento. En español también tenemos las dos formas («leo» y «estoy leyendo»), pero en inglés hay que elegir con más cuidado.

Present simple: affirmative

To make the present simple, use the verb without to: «I play», «you play», «we play», «they play». With he, she and it add -s: «she plays», «it rains».

Spelling (ortografía): verbs ending in -sh, -ch, -ss, -x and -o add -es: watch → watches, go → goes, do → does. Consonant + y changes to -ies: study → studies, fly → flies. But vowel + y only adds -s: play → plays. Have is irregular: he has.

Verb	He / She / It
play	plays
watch	watches

Present simple: negatives and questions

For negatives we use don't (do not) or doesn't (does not) + verb: «I don't like fish», «He doesn't like fish». Careful: after doesn't the verb has no -s.

For questions we put Do or Does first: «Do you like pizza?» – «Yes, I do. / No, I don't». «Does she speak French?» – «Yes, she does. / No, she doesn't». En castellano: en inglés la pregunta no se hace solo con la entonación, como en «¿te gusta la pizza?»; necesita el ayudante do/does.

Time words for the present simple

Some words tell us to use the present simple. They are frequency adverbs (adverbios de frecuencia): always, usually, often, sometimes, never. They go before the main verb but after the verb to be: «I usually have cereal», «She is always happy».

Other time expressions go at the end: every day, every Monday, on Saturdays, at the weekend, once a week. Example: «We go swimming twice a week». En castellano: «twice a week» es «dos veces por semana».

The present continuous has two parts: the verb to be (am / is / are) and the verb with -ing. «I am reading», «She is eating», «They are playing». In speaking we use short forms: I'm, she's, they're.

Spelling: verbs ending in -e lose the e: write → writing, dance → dancing. Short verbs ending in consonant + vowel + consonant double the last letter: swim → swimming, run → running, sit → sitting. Negative: «I'm not sleeping». Question: «Are you listening?» – «Yes, I am».

Time words for the present continuous

These words tell us that something is happening now: now, right now, at the moment, today, this week, and also Look! and Listen! «Look! The baby is walking!», «Be quiet! Grandpa is sleeping».

We also use the present continuous for temporary things (cosas temporales): «I usually live in Madrid, but this month I'm staying with my aunt in Cádiz». En castellano: si algo pasa solo durante un tiempo, aunque no sea en este segundo exacto, también va en continuo.

Compare: «My dad works in a hospital» (that is his job, always) and «My dad is working in the garden» (now, at this moment). «Sara speaks English» (she can, always) and «Sara is speaking English» (now, on the phone).

Some verbs are almost never in continuous: like, love, hate, want, know, understand, need. We say «I know the answer», not «I'm knowing». En castellano: son verbos de gustos, deseos y pensamientos; no son acciones que se ven, por eso van en simple.

Always	Now
He works.	He's working.
She speaks.	She's speaking.
We play.	We're playing.

Reading: a day at summer camp

Read Marta's message: «Hi Grandma! I'm at summer camp. Every day I get up at eight and I have breakfast with my friends. We usually go canoeing in the morning. I don't like the food very much, but the activities are fantastic! Right now I'm sitting by the lake and my friends are playing volleyball. The sun is shining. Love, Marta».

Find the two presents: the routine (get up, have, go, don't like) and the things happening now (am sitting, are playing, is shining).

Every day	I get up at eight.
Usually	We go canoeing.
Right now	I'm sitting by the lake.
Now	The sun is shining.

Play in pairs. One student mimes an action (hace mímica) and the other asks: «Are you swimming?» – «No, I'm not». «Are you dancing?» – «Yes, I am!». Then change roles.

Second round: talk about your routine. «Do you walk to school?», «What time do you go to bed?», «How often do you play video games?». Answer with full sentences: «I sometimes play at the weekend». Consejo: escucha si la pregunta empieza por Are (ahora) o por Do (normalmente).

Question	Answer
Are you dancing?	Yes, I am.
Do you dance?	Yes, I do.
Is he eating?	No, he isn't.
Does he eat fish?	No, he doesn't.
